

Erratum

Two errors are contained in the paper, "Role of the 5-lipo-oxygenase pathway in obstructive nephropathy" (January issue, volume 41:100-106, 1992), by Reyes et al. Instead of the formula for renal vascular resistance, located on page 102, left column, second sentence under the headline, Calculations:

$$\text{MAP/ERPF}(1-\text{hematocrit})$$

the correct formula should be:

$$\text{RVR} = \text{MAP/RBF}, \text{ where RBF is renal blood flow,}$$ calculated from the formula:

$$\text{RBF} = \text{ERPF}/[1-(\text{hematocrit}/100)], \text{ where}$$

ERPF is effective renal plasma flow.

Also, in the Methods section (page 101, right column, second sentence under Clearance studies and blood pressure determinations), the catheter size for the left femoral artery should be PE 10, and for the left femoral vein PE 50.

The Authors and Editors regret the error.
